

FATE OF EDWIN FETTERS

MURDERED AND BURIED IN A HOLE
UNDER A MULE'S CARCASS.

His Partner, William Sutherly, of
Marshall County, Arrested—Wounded
Man's Heart Bents Visible.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
PLYMOUTH, Ind., Dec. 12.—A shocking tragedy has just been brought to light. About two weeks ago people residing near Election schoolhouse, in Washington township, Starke county, heard several shots. Next morning a man's cap and a pool of blood were found in the road. Yesterday an organized band of searchers found a newly-made grave on the west shore of Eagle lake. About four feet below the surface was found the carcass of a mule, and three feet below this was found the body of a man which was since been identified as that of Edwin Feters, of this city, who has been missing for two or three weeks. Feters made his home with William Sutherly, and he and Sutherly had been in Starke county buying and trading for old horses and mules, some of which they killed for the hides. Sutherly was arrested last night by deputy sheriff of Starke county, assisted by Sheriff Marshall, of this city. Sutherly had recently traded for the latest model of a Winchester rifle, and the latter was found in a hole in the northwest of Plymouth. Five bullet holes were found in the head and body of Feters, and Sutherly was seen with a bloody gun and bloody clothes the next day after the shots were heard at night. Sutherly denies all knowledge of the affair.

REMARKABLE SURGICAL CASE.

Man's Breast Shot Away and the Heart Bents Visible.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Dec. 12.—A surgical case, destined to become one of the most noted in the history of the world, is located in this county not quite five miles south of this city. James H. Lee, aged fifteen, was rabbit hunting the afternoon of Nov. 14, taking along a double-barreled muzzle-loading shot gun. In reloading one barrel the other discharged, the explosion carrying shot, wad and burning powder through the front wall of his left chest, entirely removing three inches of the second and third ribs about two inches from their insertion in the chest wall. The bone and flesh was as neatly removed as if done with knife and forceps. None of the lung entered the cavity, but a few shot were scattered near the collar bone. The pleura, the membrane covering the lung, was badly torn and immediately pushed forward to fill the aperture. The first rib was also splintered. The accident happened about 4 p. m. and Harry Lee nearly a half mile to a house and sat erect in a chair until after 6 o'clock, when the wound was dressed and he was taken to the hospital. These long hours every pulsation of the heart could be counted by watching the pulsing motion of the rib. The blood and the blood and torn lung substance was thrown sometimes ten feet as the air rushed in and out. The patient was in a state of great alarm and the wound was large enough to thrust a hand through without difficulty. An unsuccessful attempt was made to close the wound with superficial sutures, leaving a valve-like opening below for drainage, but a few days later the wound had healed in proved so great the aperture was opened to allow the escape of pus.

Then one of the most remarkable things in this case occurred. When the aperture was opened the air rushed in with a hissing noise, and the patient was thrown to the square inch. The lung collapsed completely, fainting followed and death was imminent. The heart was placed in a position over the hole and almost instantly the lips and cheeks resumed their rosy tint and the patient returned to life. SUICIDE OR ACCIDENT?

TWO NOTED CHICAGO AGOSTICS
ASPHYXIATED AT BOSTON.

S. P. Putnam and Mary L. Collins, a
"New Woman," Found Dead Together—
Mrs. Jerrold Takes Poison.

BOSTON, Dec. 12.—Samuel P. Putnam, president of the Free Thought Congress, and Mary L. Collins, both of Chicago, were found dead on the floor of an apartment in St. Botolph street, in the fashionable Back Bay district of this city, to-day. The woman was twenty years of age and the man fifty. A gas cock in the room was wide open and the fumes of the gas had been the cause of death. The bodies were both completely clothed. A whiskey flask was also found in the room. The indications are that the couple committed suicide last night. Miss Collins and Putnam were lecturers and the man accompanied the woman home last night.

After looking into the matter, the police discarded the suicide theory. They found that Mr. Putnam and Miss Collins were to have given a farewell banquet to be given to a number of their club on the evening of their departure for the old country. It was also found that the gas escaped from a valve at the back of the regular valves, which had been placed there for the purpose of attaching a lamp tube, and it is thought that the cock of the valve was accidentally turned on when the other valve was lighted.

Mr. Putnam was well known in Free Thought circles. He was the author of a book entitled "Four Hundred Years of Free Thought," a copy of which was found in the room at the time the bodies were discovered. The writer, who was born in Chester, N. H., his father was a Congregational minister of that place, and he was educated at the University of Cambridge and entered Dartmouth College in 1858. In 1865 he entered the Theological Seminary at Chicago, where he remained for three years, and then began preaching in evangelistic pulpits in Illinois. In 1870 he joined the Unitarians and subsequently he preached this faith in many parts of the United States. Miss Collins, while not very well known in this section, is said to have been very interested in the work which he had undertaken.

A dispatch from Chicago says: "Samuel P. Putnam was recently indicted by the Wayne county grand jury on a charge of securing money under false pretenses. The amount is alleged to have been between $500 and $800, and he is alleged to have obtained the money from the Second National Bank of this city. Lehman was formerly in business here, and was the partner of the firm of McCabe, Lehman & Dye, insurance agents."

POOL ROOMS RAIDED.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 12.—The war between the city authorities and the poolrooms developed into active hostilities to-day, and all the rooms that were opened were raided. The gamblers claimed that the law did not prevent the placing of bets in Illinois if the money was sent out of the State before being actually used for betting purposes. The city legal department, however, held that the police had no right to interfere, but to-day the police were told to go ahead and they went. Warrants were taken out against thirteen of the resorts, and every detective connected with the central police station, besides a number of officers, were sent out to make the arrests. This action was taken after Inspector Fitzpatrick had notified the keepers of poolrooms that unless they closed their places within an hour they would be taken into custody. Eight of the poolrooms, against whom warrants had been issued, took advantage of the warning and closed their places. The remaining five did not comply, and the execution of the warrants was delayed. They are: Paul White, No. 12 Dearborn street; J. E. Woodard and J. D. Dunn, proprietors, No. 17 Madison street; Louis Wheeler, No. 115 Clark street; Barney Michaels, No. 38 Randolph street; Leo Maror, No. 10 Clark street.

In each resort scores of inmates were crowded and arrested. All of the prisoners were taken to the central police station, where the name of each was taken and they were released on bonds. Those charged with being keepers of the places were taken before Judge Tuley, where their bonds were fixed at $1,000 each.

ALLEGED FORGER.
Special Pension Examiner Jordan Arrested in Canada.
TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 12.—Detective Davis to-day arrested James A. Jordan, of Grand Rapids, Mich., on a charge of forgery involving a large amount of money. Jordan is a United States government official employed as a special pension examiner, and is charged with forging the government's signature. Sauters then shot himself in the wrist and cut his throat. His recovery is barely possible. Both were colored. Jealousy caused the tragedy.

Ex-Sultan Murad at Large.
BERLIN, Dec. 12.—The Tagblatt says that ex-Sultan Murad has escaped from the custody of the German government and remained practically a prisoner since he became insane in 1873.
